THE RIGHT SIDE

Student life is widely defined. It is considered what a student has to do and what kind of fun they can get into during their spare time. It's a lot of fun when you are able to get with friends to attend school events, such as the ugly man contest, Homecoming, the Ring Dance and so on. Other activities which fills a youths weekends are parking at Pizza Hut, going to concerts, and just hanging around town to cruise the strip. As a whole a students life may seem boring but we make the best of what we have.

Jody E Missy

Smiling pretty for the camera are Senior representatives Jody Albritton, Susan Gilbert, Karen Nuckols, and Beth Laswell.

Waiting anxiously for the parade to begin is the Senior Homecoming Court.

Junior, Steve Tomlin is anxiously awaiting for the picture to be over so he can kiss the new beauty queen, Sally Carter.

Holidays are a time for students to act like kids again. On Halloween the SCA sponsors a contest to see whose costume is the funniest, Stacy Pemberton, the most original, Tim Deyo, and the scariest, Michele Lynn.

Don't walk in

I may not follow.
Don't walk behind me
I may not lead.
Walk beside me and just be my

That we can

as I can say about you.

What's In, What's Out

Styles of clothing tend to change from year to year at Parry McCluer. This year when you walk down a hall or look in a classroom you happen to see a lot of ripped jeans. Students go home and find an old pair of jeans, and they will bleach them and tear holes in them. You would also see more T-shirts with rock groups like Motley Crue, Poison, Def Leppard, Metallica, and Guns and Roses. Most students like to wear Reebok, Converse or Nike shoes. During winter more people are wearing long trench coats or jean jackets. During the summer the girls are most likely to wear mini-skirts and boys wear tank tops and jeans shorts. Who knows what students will be wearing in a few short years.

THE PERSONALIZED SIDE

Chad Widdifield's license plate, PMHS 89, seems to reflect on all of the seniors this year.

The new fad of our time is personalized license plates. This year it seems to be in more demand than ever, since the number of letters have changed from six to seven. Whether people put their name on their plates or just a message, everyone seems to like them around here. It seems great to have your first car, and now it's even better with personalized license plates. On hot, fast cars, you may see things such as BL STANG, ONE JAY, SCH-PWH, SKO 89, BETH PM, JETS 99, MELISA W, MNT MAN 1, 3 RACE, OC1, NICKI 6. These are just a few you may see in the parking lot of PMHS, and on the streets of B.V.

Cheap Way Out

Everyone has their own opinion of what a cheap date is. Some may say going out to eat at Hardee's. Some may say just riding around. By unanimous vote staying home and watching movies on the VCR is the most likely thing to do and then getting your parents to buy the movies.

"The cheapest date I've ever been on is when I was at a friend's house and my date and I sat on the swing all night," said Penny Moore. Even though we've all had cheap dates, some of them were fun.

TWO BIG DAYS

The sophomore class trip is always fun, because you get out of school for the day. This years trip included going to Vo-Tech for those interested in going there next year.

Then they went for a walk on the Chesapeake Trail. They were instructed by their Biology teacher to notice the animals, insects and green life. The next day the sophmores got to order their class rings.

Ordering class rings is a big thing. The thought of finally being old enough to order rings gave them a special feeling.

Looking uninterested in what they have seen at Vo-Tech are Sophomores Meredith Clayton and Wendi Gibson.

Watching attentively at Vo-Tech are Sophomores Kim Laswell, Stacy Pemberton, Tommy Huffman and Timmy McDaniel.

Trying to get the attention of the camera is Mrs. Stinnett.

Enjoying the beautiful day out of school is this crazy bunch of sophomores.

Trying to pick out the perfect ring are Sophomores Leslie Fitzgerald and Kelly Fitzgerald.

Helping each other make the right decision, Jeff Floyd, Vince Lowdermilk, Stacy Jarvis, and Greg Camden try to select their class rings.

Being fitted for a class ring is the hand of Sophomore Marcy Gallier.

Helping each other decide on the right stone for their ring are Sophomores Crystal Campbell and Stacy Pemberton.

Mother and son helping each other with a decision about a class ring.

Looking excited about finally being able to order a class ring is Sophomore Samantha Wheeler.

Learning To Grow

After three years of being led around by the hand in the middle school, many of the eighth graders of the being freshmen. Coming in to the ninth grade, no matter how grade, no school, or study you were in, the reputation pretty nice. Coming pretty, now grade, no school, in the middle school, that reputation stays in the middle school. Coming in under the disapproving look of many sophomores, juniors and seniors as a name is definitely a no obstacle to overcome. After the first month of school was over the "newcomers" over the developing names and reputations, were slow, bad. They now have a name and everybody knows who they are. Now they are getting ready, give the 8th graders ready to 3rd degree. Congratulations newcomers!

WHO?

This being our first year of high school, we really should put forth our best effort
but sometimes that gets to be pretty boring. We like to put things off until our junior or senior year, that's when things start to get pretty intense. Yet despite all this, we still manage to get good grades. We have pressures to deal with too. Sure, even we have spats
with our boy/girlfriends but this is all a part of growing up and we are still growing and learning.

FOLLOWING IN THEIR FOOTSTEPS

Each year a new freshman class arrives at Parry McCluer High School. These students come following in whose footsteps? Is it their big brother, or sister, maybe its the star of the football team? No matter who it is they're still a part of Parry McCluer. As they adjust to changes, they look forward to their sophomore year and the day someone follows in their footsteps.

the SPORTS side

When the word of sports is brought up around Parry McCluer another word usually follows and that word is winning. This year was no different. There were many accomplishments never made before. There were many teams. The wrestling team defeated Glenvar for the first time and went on to go undefeated as a team. The girls' program seems to be growing more and more each year. The girls' sports season saw Coach Earl Downs step down from head coach of basketball and Coach Hand take over. The girls' softball went on to the region finals for the first time. We say that the athletes were winners again!

The setting, Parry McCluer High School; the time, midday of August 3, 1988. This set the tone of the first day of varsity football practice. Due to the loss of a lot of key players, this young teams season had already been predicted by the public, but the season took off.

In the season opener the Blues faced district rival Lexington in a non-district game. The Blues lost a close but not so close game to the Hurricanes, 9-0.

The following week the Blues hosted "AA" powerhouse Allegany. Two significant plays cost the Blues a close one as Allegany edged the Blues, 18-13.

It seems that it is a tradition for the Blues to lose their first two games and then win the remainder of their games. The team went on to win their next three games. These wins upped their record to 3-2 and 3-0 in the district. The next week Stuarts Draft defeated the Blues 35-6. The team went on and defeated James River, 23-0. The Blues worked hard to win against Covington yet fell short of this attempt losing 23-13.

The following week the Blues traveled to Bath County where they won 19-8. Now they were ready to face off with Lexington for the second time this season. The group pulled off a 14-13 upset. This victory put the Blues into the playoff for the third straight year and their first game was against Pioneer District Champs Covington. The team came out fired up and were down only 7-6 at the half. The Blues got the ball and fought a long hard way into Covington territory and with under a minute left they kicked the winning field goal. It was the biggest win of the year for the Blues and it put them into the regional finals against Rural Retreat who won 18-13 after their quarterback had his best game of the year. It was a winning season with a 7-5 record.

DETERMINATION

Although the varsity boys basketball team had a losing record, they worked to the best of their ability throughout the year.

They started out this year with only two returning players and each averaged two points per game. Coach Fox said their overall goal was to improve. He said they showed potential and had an improving season. The players were aggressive and set a school record of six consecutive wins in a game. Next year, Coach Fox looks for a winning record with many returning players.

STEPPING UP WITH A CHANGE

Showing off her uniform from the school she used to direct at last year in Africa, band director Leola "Bobby-boy" Huffman shows her favorite look.

Marching season started out on a sad note this year with the leaving of Allison Uhl. However, this "Great Depression" didn't last long after the arrival of Leola Huffman. After a few meetings, practices, and tryouts, the band season started getting underway. Drum majors Drew Tanner and Lorie Truslow were appointed and everything was ready. Colorguard received new uniforms and new flags, however, the new uniforms ended up to be depressing. Music was selected from the West-side Story and all the sheet music was handed out and assigned to learn. After months of practice, and one very long week of band camp, the Marching Blues were as ready as they were going to get.

The first competition they competed at was the Parade Of Champions at Salem, Virginia. The awards received consisted of : Drumline: 1st, Flags: 3rd, and overall band: 3rd. Next, they went to the Covington Cavalcade, which in many opinions was rigged. The Drumline, Flags, and Drum Majors all received 2nd. They went to JMU competition and received scoring in the top of their class. Last, but far from least, they went to the Greenbriar East Classic and received: Drumline: 1st, Marching: 3rd, and overall band: 3rd. The major victory at Greenbriar East, however, was the higher rank received than Natural Bridge High School Band. After all the work, the band overall, thought it was all worth it in the end!

After months of practice, Senior and Drum Major, Drew Tanner flashes his "fake" smile.

Looking natural, Senior Lori Truslow shows it doesn't take brains to be a drum major.

With a look like that, what else could it mean but "GET OUT OF MY FACE"? This is the most famous of senior Beth Cooper's most highly known looks.

In conclusion to a half time show, some of the stragglers of the band march of the field.

THE ACTIVE SIDE

Its not unusual to see students rushing down the halls after school. Sure, some of them are trying to get out and go home while others hurry to their lockers so they won't be late for a club meeting.

I guess you could say that a club gives you some say so in what goes on. This and student events make school more enjoyable and makes most of the schools extracurricular activities more enjoyable.

The interest in clubs has been declining. Some clubs fade out while others are started. Last year there was a newspaper club and it wasn't really successful. But this year its going strong.

There are clubs for just about every students thrill. This is just another way to keep a students "wildside" pumping.

THE CLOVEY SIDE

As the first half of the year winds down, the second half is just beginning to take off. With the winter months coming to a abrupt halt, it brings in the treacherous "Spring Fever." During this time of year, class is interrupted due to assemblies, field trips, and the preparations for just about everything. Activities which took a lot of time and hard work were the annual Miss PMHS pageant, the Junior-Senior prom, and last of all, the big day for the Seniors, Graduation. As the school year comes to an end, the underclassmen will take that next dreaded step to what could be their best year of all.

Wide Open Wild Ones

Activities in Buena Vista may vary from dancing and partying to just riding around. Most people hang out and talk to friends on the parking lots of Pizza Hut, Ronaldo's, May's, & Kenney's. For dancing most people go to the Recreation Station. Even though there is not a whole lot to do in a small town, people can easily find something to do in Buena Vista. This is a town that is usually wide open on week-ends for wild ones.

While being some where they shouldn't be Brian Lowdermilk waves goodbye, but Susan Gilbert turns her back.

While standing in the Pizza Hut parking lot, seniors Dana Mears, Priscilla Painter, Desra Dawson, Karen Nuckles, Carol Ramsey, and Jeannie Moore prepare for the night ahead.

A Night of Dreams

As the prom theme said it was "A Night of Dreams". Everyone looked like they walked out of a fairy tale. There was happiness in the air and everyone looked as if they were floating around in a dream. Once again the prom was held in the Sem ballroom. The D.J. was the same as last year and not without a doubt the best. The night was going great. There was plenty of good food and cold drinks.

It was the time for the Senior walk. This year there was a change. We wouldn't only have a prom king and queen, we would also have a prom court. The king and queen were announced as Billie Jean Oyler and Brian Lowdermilk. The juniors worked very hard and made it a night to remember. The decorations were beautiful and made a regular room into a ballroom fantasy. The Junior-Senior Prom of 1989 was "A Night of Dreams" and will always be remembered.

The king and queen for the Class of 1989 were Brian Lowdermilk and Billie Jean Oyler.

During the senior line up, everyone waits for the other seniors to walk in.

Working hard on the prom decorations are juniors Dawn Coleman and Jennifer Williams .

Having a great time are many couples slow dancing in "A Night of Dreams".

Smiling for the camera at their last prom are seniors Shelly Hite, Priscilla Painter, Carol Ramsey, and Karen Nuckles.

Looking very happy about entering into the Sem ballroom are freshman Kim Hall and junior Scott Moore.

While having the prom catered, a cake was made for the Class of 1989 in the prom colors.

THE FINAL

The Day

The time had come, it was graduation night June 16, 1989 at Glen Maury Park. The air was full of excitement and anticipation. The sight of friends and family members and tears of sadness and joy was not unusual. The senior class was continued on pg. 106.

Singing a special song at the Baccalaureate Service are several members of the Senior class.

Reviewing the canoe film from Senior Day are these "serious faced" film critics at the Senior Banquet.

Walking down the aisle at the Baccalaureate Service are Beth Cooper and valedictorian Darin Bowman.

CHAPTER

Seniors Missy Watts and Chad Slough march together at Baccalaureate Service.

"Look at my hair!" says Beth Laswell as she and Tammy Camden are caught off guard after Baccalaureate.

Waiting to enter the Banquet are Jody Albritton, Beth Mohler, Susan Gilbert, Missy Chittum, and Penny Moore.

"Why do you want to take a picture?" asks Brooke Huffman as she and Jinky Garrett are caught by the camera.

The Day

The welcome was given by class president Aaron Zdinak. Speeches were delivered by the 1989 Valedictorian Darin Bowman and Salutatorian Susan Gilbert. Before too long, Mr. Flint was declaring the class, graduates of PMHS. The traditional switch of the tassel and the graduating class bid their farewell. The year had come and gone and the class of 89 had tried to make their mark at PMHS.

With a smile of satisfaction is Spider Shields.

Caught by the camera is Shannon Livebey after graduation.

Helping Missy Watts with her cap is Jody Albritton as Angie Ramsey and Beth Laswell look on.

Pausing for a quick picture are Susan Gilbert, Jinky Garrett, Tracy Kennedy, Lisa Hamilton, Penny Moore, Jody Albritton, and Missy Chittum.

Preparing themselves for the "Big Moment" are Tressa Grant, Alisa Graybill, Angie Davis, and Cindy Moore.

"I can put this cap away now" thinks Tony Rice as he smiles after graduation ceremonies.

Anticipating the moment she will receive her diploma is Michelle Buzzard.

wildside, even within the community.
Every weekend you can see us teens out.
Some of us are just havin' a good ole time.
while others are workin' their fingers to the

The year has come and gone. We've learned a lot but still there is much to be brought to our attention. We've been through a lot together. We've watched the seasons go by and the classes come to an end.

We watched some prepare to go our separate ways and some to return for another year at PMHS. When you have nothing to do and you're feeling down, pick up your yearbook and find your friends and your WILD SIDE.
